

RIPTOWN.COM

To Whom it May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Daniel Quinn for either Software Development or Network Administration positions.

Dan worked for me as a PHP Developer for ten months at Riptown.com Media. During that time, he was instrumental in developing a number of large-scale, high-volume systems that served thousands of customers around the world. He worked as part of a distributed team including other developers, system administrators, interface designers, and numerous stakeholders, and contributed at a very high level at all stages of project development.

Dan was admired by his team-mates for his intelligence, his knowledge, his creative energy and his great team spirit. He contributed mightily to all design discussions, debated passionately on points of process and standards, and always worked to elevate the expectations of his team and his stakeholders. He is missed by all.

I would not hesitate to hire Dan back onto my team should the opportunity present itself.

If you have any further questions about Dan, please contact me and I will be pleased to provide you with any details you may need.

Very Sincerely,

Corey Reid
